Harry Potter: Wizards Unite has been churning out events all summer long and that hasn't slowed down throughout August. After Part 1 of a new Brilliant Event and a Wizarding Weekend, witches and wizards are about to get right back out into the wild to conclude the First Year at Hogwarts two-parter. The mobile AR game is playing it safe and continues to optimize all ongoing events for at home play, which means that players should be able to complete the upcoming weeklong event without interacting with other players face-to-face if they don't want to. The start of the the second half of the current Harry Potter: Wizards Unite Brilliant Event is August 25 and players are going to have until September 1 to take advantage of the bonuses and complete all of the tasks.

Part 2 of the First Year at Hogwarts-themed event gets underway tomorrow afternoon and sends witches and wizards out into the world with yet another long list of challenges to complete and rewards to claim. The Wizards Unite community has already been tearing through the event code to find tasks and are ready to share all of the details about what needs to be done and, more importantly, what rewards are up for grabs.
